

ShopSphere Return Policy

This policy explains when customers may return items purchased from ShopSphere and what conditions apply.

Return window

- Most products may be returned within 30 calendar days from the date of delivery.
- The item should be unused, undamaged, and returned with its original packaging, accessories, manuals, and tags.
- A valid ShopSphere order number is required for every return.

Items that cannot be returned

- Personalized or custom-made products cannot be returned unless they arrive damaged or defective.
- Opened personal-care, hygiene, and intimate products are not eligible for return for health and safety reasons.
- Products marked Final Sale are not returnable.

Damaged or defective items

- If an item arrives damaged, defective, or materially different from the product ordered, contact ShopSphere within 7 calendar days of delivery.
- ShopSphere may ask for photographs of the product and packaging before approving the return.
- For an approved damaged-item return, ShopSphere pays the return shipping cost.

Return shipping

- For change-of-mind returns, the customer pays return shipping unless the product page specifically states free returns.
- After the returned item reaches the warehouse, it is inspected before the refund is approved.
